PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE By Nancy Edwards

"A work is finished when an artist realizes his intentions." Rembrandt

What story do you want your work tell? Do you sit down to paint or draw without knowing where you are going? It is not uncommon for artists to rush to start painting, without taking the necessary steps to plan their work. What do you want your art to say? What story are you inviting your viewers to be part of? What time of day is it? Where is the sun? How do you accomplish showing distance? Do you do a few value studies? The more you take the time to plan, the better your end result will be. Trying to correct your art midway, is more difficult than planning it out in advance.

In my training with Tom Lynch, he always stressed value studies. And how focusing on your lights and darks make your work pop! Think about your focal point...does your eye move right to it? Do you have strong contrast there, possibly brighter colors?

Take your time to plan...and better yet...know when you are done! Be careful not to overwork!

Update on General Meeting...WE ARE Pine Shores!

This past General Monthly Meeting focused on the status of PSAA. Members of the Board of Directors filled members in on the need for volunteers to continue the programs of our organization. It was a very successful meeting with some members stepping up to offer their help.

We are at a crossroads, where several key positions are becoming available. Committee Chairs are making a point to break down jobs into smaller ones so that small groups of members can work together to get the work done. We are in need of members with computer skills (designing brochures, newsletters, inputting information, etc.); writers (articles, proofreaders); planners/organizational skills (planning classes, lectures); finance/grant writers/bookkeepers (to help manage PSAA finances); maintenance workers (make small repairs, paint, etc.); hospitality (set up/cleanup, servers, shoppers). Please offer to do your part! PSAA needs your help!

PATRON SHOW UPDATE

The time is finally here! The 2018 Patron Show is hung on June 27th and Patrons may come view the paintings at PSAA to begin making their "wish list" for the Gala. Come on Sunday afternoons from 1-3 or Wednesday's from 10-2. Better yet, our Open House is planned for Sunday afternoon July 15 from 1-3:00. Or, just go to our wonderful website and view photos of this year's donations. You will be amazed, and pleased!

Then make your plans to attend the Gala on Sunday afternoon, July 29, starting at 1:00 at the Firehouse, across the street from Pine Shores. Be sure to plan to also add your name to the Door Prize box and perhaps go home with one of the 3 artistically decorated enormous watering cans! It's been a wonderful six months of preparation, and now it's time to enjoy the day.

(If for some reason you are not able to attend, make sure you give your list to a friend who can pick up a painting for you.)

UPCOMING PSAA SHOWS:

Here comes a favorite show—our Summer Student Art Show, 7/28-8/28. Show what you've learned in PSAA classes or workshops. Enter one painting from the last 3 years for $5.00. Then, come to the 8/6 General Meeting to vote for your favorite work of art. Ribbons will be awarded. Drop off 7/26 7-9 pm, and 7/27, 10-Noon. Be sure to abide by the hanging rules please. A Note from Your Editor By Barbara Kraemer

The June 4th General Membership Meeting was one of solidarity and encouragement to both the Board and those who attended. It was a serious meeting with a critical message. While President Nancy Edwards strove to keep things on a positive note, it was crucial to convey the message that PSAA is at a crossroads. We are not kidding when we say we need new volunteers to step up. Many positions established with set terms are coming to an end this year and numerous volunteers of critical areas are stepping down, or into new and different areas. Without people to fill these positions, there is no PSAA as we are a 100% volunteer run organization.

To say "Just hire someone to do the job," isn't that easy. First, we don't have finances to pay for all these areas. Second, being a not-for-profit organization limits us in what paid positions can be offered. Then there's the debate of where will the money come from? Raise prices? Downsize and eliminate benefits? Both?

While the Board is still reviewing suggestions, outcomes, and options presented at the meeting, several people (members and Non-member Friends alike) did step up to offer help. THANK YOU if you're one of them! Someone will be in touch soon! But that is just a beginning. Audience participants emphasized the need to "Get this message out to those not in attendance tonight," an excellent observation, and thus this note.

Attached to the e-version of this newsletter, posted on the website, and available in hard copy at the gallery, is Who's Who at PSAA, a comprehensive breakout of the many facets of each Committee and Area of Responsibility. Historically, in many instances one person handled all the facets of a particular area. But, as Nancy explained, "We're not looking to saddle anyone with a burdensome job for the rest of their life. That's not fair. We broke out the facets because if each person would take on just one facet, the job would be painless, everything would get done, and we could get to know new friends in a real spirit of teamwork, cooperation, and fun."

Please read the list and become part of Who's Who at PSAA. We need you.
