

March 2019

Pine Shores Art Association

Artistically Speaking

From the President Linda Saladino

Soon Spring will bring us nicer weather and PSAA will be blooming with workshops and shows. Be sure to register early for classes. Plan to be a part of as many shows as you are able. I want to thank our new volunteers. They are much appreciated. However, we still need more people to step up and help. If interested, one can work with the person doing the job now to learn the particulars. Give it some thought and let me know if you can help. Call me at 609-660-8062. PSAA loves our volunteers! See you at PSAA soon. Linda.

Art History Lecture on March 11 at Stafford Library: It should be hard to run off with something famous hanging in a museum, but Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" was lifted by workmen hiding in a closet, and Edvard Munch's celebrated "Scream" was stolen twice. Pine Shores presents Professor Kate Nearpass Ogden with an illustrated talk on the fascinating subject of "The History of Art Forgery and Stolen Art". Before the lecture, there's a reception for the PSAA artists whose work is currently hanging in the Library. It's free, but the library requests you call 609-597-3381 to pre-register.

In addition to the award-winning and noted artist instructors from our Tri-State area that PSAA is fortunate to have on its teaching roster, this spring, Western artist and famed colorist Ken Hosmer will be here in April. Ken is in demand worldwide as a teacher, and his articles are found in Artists' Magazine and Watercolor Magic under such provocative titles as "How to Paint Backward."
